After a volatile start to spring, May saw a sharp rebound in indices, with the S&P, for example, recording its best May since 1997. The market was buoyed in particular by easing tensions between China and the US, solid US employment and more positive European PMIs. However, Japanese long-term interest rates rose sharply. Over the month, the MSCI Europe rose by +4.7%, the MSCI Europe Smallcap rose by +7.1%, the MSCI Europe Microcap rose by +6.7% and the MSCI Europe ex UK Microcap rose by +5.8%. With 153 of the 205 stocks rising, the fund is in line with its benchmark index. Among the top contributors were two Norwegian companies, Pexip (+54%) and Norbit, thanks to their excellent start to the year, as well as Exail (+42%), which continued its momentum in terms of order intake and its upward trend. Conversely, Pierce (-22%) saw its strong growth overshadowed by disappointing margins, and Victorian Plumbing (-20%) plunged after disappointing outlook, mainly due to higher-than-expected investments. In terms of main moves, we sold Elmera, Stille and Enea, whose GARP profiles were deteriorating, and we took positions in 2CRSI, which reaffirmed its ambitious growth target for 2025, NewPrinces, which is pursuing its ambitious acquisition strategy, and Stillfront, which is taking a strategic turn. On a non-financial level, Pihlajalinna, a Finnish specialist in social services and private healthcare, is strengthening its sustainable development strategy. Indeed, on a social level, it has a Net Promoter Score (NPS) of over 80 and an eNPS (employee recommendation score) of over 30, demonstrating high customer satisfaction and a good internal climate.
